REMARKS

On 9/26/2016, at approximately 1553 hours, I was dispatched with Officer Sevigny to 568 Main Street apartment 2 for an unwanted person. Upon our arrival we met with the 3 residents of 2 adult females and a 5 month old baby.

The complainant told me that Matthew Adcock followed her home from Main Street. She said that Adcock was extremely drunk. She is friends with Adcock and sometimes he comes to visit, but today she told him that she did not want him in her apartment. When she went inside to close the door, Adcock pushed his way into the apartment and refused to leave. The complainant wanted Adcock to leave.

As I was speaking with the complainant I heard Adcock yelling. Adcock was yelling so loud that he could be heard clearly heard in the common hallway of the apartment building. We entered into the bedroom and found Adcock lying on bed with his belt undone. Adcock extremely uncooperative. He was yelling and refusing to provide basic information. He was extremely intoxicated, slurred his speech as he spoke, emanated the odor of alcohol as he spoke, and would fall when he tried to stand up.

During his rant Adcock began yelling that he was going to "kill" myself, Officer Sevigny, and the adult female residents. Adcock then started clenched his fists and started to stand up to advance towards us, yelling "you don't know what's going to happen". It was evident that residents were afraid of Adcock and he appeared to be attempting to follow through with his threat. Adcock was then taken into custody.

We attempted to bring Adcock to our cruisers and he would not stand up. We had to carry him down the stairs, and as we did he flailed around wildly and kicked at me with his loose leg. His pants repeatedly fell down, exposing his genitals to us. When we got into the cruiser he would not get in, tensing his body in a straight line. After several minutes of pleading with him, Adcock got inside.

During the booking process Adcock was up and down. He would begin yelling and threatening to kill us, and then would begin apologizing. He finally lost control and refused to be booked any further. He would not let Officer Sevigny fingerprint him.

Adcock was held on a $5000 surety for violation of CGS 53a-181 breach of peace 2nd, 53a-62 threatening 2nd, and 29-12 failure to submit to fingerprints. He is scheduled to appear at GA9 in Middletown on 9/27/2016 at 0900 hours.

REMARKS

On 9/26/2016, at approximately 2155 hours, Detective Lemieux and I were traveling southbound on South Main Street by Cottage Street. I observed a green Jeep Cherokee, bearing CT registration 605ZTL, traveling in front of my unmarked police vehicle. The vehicle approached the intersection of South Main Street and Warick Street. It was in the lane designated to travel straight only. The vehicle crossed over the solid white line to the right turn only lane without signaling. The vehicle then made a right turn onto Warwick Street without signaling. I activated our emergency lights and siren and initiated a traffic stop on Warwick Street. Detective Peck and Lathrop responded as backup.

It should be noted that the stop took place well within 1500' of the Town and Country Day Care (see attached map)

We approached the vehicle and I observed the right rear male passenger reach over to the left rear passenger (later identified as Jessica Cotto by her Connecticut driver's license) and shove a baggie into her pants. Cotto then began tucking whatever the male shoved in her pants further down. The male passenger then began reaching in the seat. The male was escorted out of the vehicle and was detained without further incident. Cotto was removed from the vehicle and detained without incident. The front passenger and driver were removed from the vehicle as well.

While dealing with the occupants, Detectives could detect the distinct odor of Phencyclidine (PCP) emanating from the interior of the vehicle. We were able to identify the odor through our training and experience. In plain view, on the passenger seat between the right rear male passenger and Cotto, I saw a partially burnt cigarette containing a black organic material that I was able to identify through my training and experience as a suspected PCP cigarette. I retrieved the suspected PCP cigarette.

The detained parties were advised of their Miranda rights verbally.

Officer Schreiner responded to the scene with his drug detecting canine, Otto. Otto is trained to detect the odor of illicit drugs, or items that have been in contact with illicit drugs. Otto alerted to the floor where the right rear male passenger was sitting and the seat, in between where the right rear male passenger and Cotto were seated in the vehicle. Officer Schreiner found a sealable baggie containing a blackish organic material that we were able to identify through our training and experience as suspected PCP. Under the rear seat Officer Schreiner found clear plastic tied around a white powdery material that we were able to identify through our training and experience as suspected cocaine. Officer Schreiner also found torn baggies consistent with the package of PCP, and empty prescription bottles that emanated the odor of suspected marijuana.

When Detective Lathrop asked Cotto what was down her pants, she first said nothing, but later admitted that Watson shoved a baggie of drugs down her pants, but she did not know what it was.

The driver was given a written warning for violation improper lane change 14-236 and failure signal 14-244. The right rear male passenger and Cotto were taken into custody as the PCP and cocaine was within their reachable area and control.

Cotto was transported to the Middletown Police Department. While being transported by Officer Remotti to headquarters, Cotto attempted to drop a cut straw with a white powdery substance in it on the ground. Officer Remotti retrieved the straw.

Sergeant Yepes authorized a strip search of Cotto and the right rear male passenger. Officer Cathy Griffin from the Berlin Police Department conducted the strip search of Cotto and found a clear plastic baggie containing 10 small sealable baggies containing a blackish organic material that we were able to identify through our training and experience as suspected PCP. Cotto told Officer Griffin that the PCP was put in her pants by the right rear male passenger.

The suspected PCP tested positive for the presumptive presence of PCP with NARK 09. The suspected cocaine tested positive for the presumptive presence of cocaine with NARK 4 and a NIK wipe. The suspected PCP weighed 4.9 grams on a department scale. The suspected PCP cigarette weighed .2 grams on a department scale. The suspected cocaine weighed .3 grams on a department scale.

During booking Cotto was uncooperative and refused to be fingerprinted.

Cotto was held on a $100,000 surety bond for violation of CGS 21a-279(a)(1) Possession of a Controlled Substance, 21a-267(a) Possession of Drug Paraphernalia, 53a-167(a) Interfering with a Police Officer, and 29-17 Failure to Comply with Fingerprints.

Coto as a pending case for violation of a protective order and a prior conviction for breach of peace.

On 09/27/16 Ofc. Bak and I were dispatched to a certain address for a reported domestic violence incident. The complainant, s told Central Dispatch that his ex-girlfriend, V/O #1 had refused to leave the apartment. He further stated that she had smashed his TV and broke the door.

Upon arrival we were met by both parties involved who were located outside in the parking area but separated. During the interview, admitted to the heated verbal argument and also to destroying the property within the apartment during the course of said argument.

Upon entering the apartment I observed a long wall mirror which was shattered on the floor in the hallway. In the living room I observed a broken wooden picture frame on the floor. The TV that was tipped over onto the floor currently sat on the TV stand. The TV did not look damaged in any way, so I plugged it in, at which point it worked perfectly.

Based on the statement of s, as well as physical evidence on scene, was issued a misdemeanor summons (MC228799) for Disorderly Conduct (C.G.S. 53a-182) and given a court date of 09/27/16. I explained the Conditions of Release stipulations, as well as the repercussions of violating them. understood and signed for those conditions.

On 9/26/2016, at approximately 1026 hours, I was dispatched to 600 East Main Street for a domestic dispute. Officer Delima responded as backup. Upon my arrival I met with Robert Gordneer and his wife at the bottom of the driveway.

Gordneer told me for some time he suspected that his juvenile stepdaughter may be abusing the daughter he has with his wife. He said today that he confronted stepdaughter about the abuse and they engaged in a verbal argument. Gordneer said that in the course of the argument he told the stepdaughter he was going to call the police. Gordneer said that his step daughter punched him with a closed fist in the face. Gordneer did not report any physical injuries and I did not see any visible injuries

His wife told the same facts as reported by Gordneer, but stated that his stepdaughter never punched him and that she only pushed him. She claimed that Gordneer also pushed his step daughter.

I spoke with the step daughter and Gordneer's mother-in-law. They said that the stepdaughter and Gordneer were arguing over Gordneer's accusation of abuse. In the course of the argument Gordneer shoved stepdaughter, the stepdaughter shoved Gordneer, and the mother-in-law shoved Gordneer. There were no reported injuries and I did not observe any physical injuries.

I did not observe any new injuries to Gordneer's daughter and she appeared to be in good physical condition.

Gordneer was issued MSC MB736990 for violation of CGS 53a-182 disorderly conduct. He is scheduled to appear at GA9 in Middletown on 9/27/2016 at 0900 hours.

A family violence report was completed. I contacted DCF and reported the incident. A DCF report was completed as well.

It should be noted that the stop took place well within 1500' of the Town and Country Day Care (see attached map)

We approached the vehicle and I observed the right rear passenger (identified by prior arrests as D'Shaun Watson and later identified by his fingerprints) reach over to the left rear female passenger and shove a baggie into her pants. The female then began tucking whatever Watson shoved in her pants further down. Watson then began reaching in the seat. Detectives know that Watson is a convicted drug dealer and has been arrested for illegal possession of a handgun in the past. Detective Lemieux loudly ordered Watson to show Detectives his hands. After repeated commands Watson was removed from the vehicle and detained.

The other occupants were also removed from the vehicle.

While dealing with the occupants, Detectives could detect the distinct odor of Phencyclidine (PCP) emanating from the interior of the vehicle. We were able to identify the odor through our training and experience. In plain view, on the passenger seat between Watson and the female rear passenger, I saw a partially burnt cigarette containing a black organic material that I was able to identify through my training and experience as a suspected PCP cigarette. I retrieved the suspected PCP cigarette.

The detained parties were advised of their Miranda rights verbally.

When asked if he had anything illegal on his person Watson stated that he had some cocaine in his pocket. A search of his pant pockets revealed that he did not have any cocaine in pocket.

Officer Schreiner responded to the scene with his drug detecting canine, Otto. Otto is trained to detect the odor or illicit drugs, or items that have been in contact with illicit drugs. Otto alerted to the floor where Watson was sitting and the seat, in between where Watson and the female were seated in the vehicle. Watson was transported to the Middletown Police Department. Sergeant Yepes authorized a strip search of Watson and the female passenger. Officer Cathy Griffin from the Berlin Police Department conducted the strip search of passenger and found a clear plastic baggie containing 10 small sealable baggies containing a blackish organic material that we were able to identify through our training and experience as suspected PCP. The female passenger told Officer Griffin that the PCP was put in her pants by Watson. Watson was free of any additional contraband.

The suspected PCP tested positive for the presumptive presence of PCP with NARK 09. The suspected cocaine tested positive for the presumptive presence of cocaine with NARK 4 and a NIK wipe. The suspected PCP weighed 4.9 grams on a department scale. The suspected PCP cigarette weighed .2 grams on a department scale. The suspected cocaine weighed .3 grams on a department scale.

The PCP was in baggies individually packaged for sale and was far more than a user would have in their possession. The amount of PCP was indicative of an individual directly involved in the sale of PCP.
